

Engine output. A boiling point is where a curve meets the dashed line — it is not stored anywhere

