

Four hours of crystal growth is eight times cheaper than ten seconds of a quench wall seconds per simulated second

